Next Move Up To Russia In Downing Of U.S. Plane

Mooncraft Lift Next Task For Saturn Rocket

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Next assignment for the Saturn 1 rocket, newly - crowned weight - lifting champion of space, will be to loft into orbit a model of the Apollo man-to-the-moon spacecraft.

The launching, scheduled here in April, will be a step toward the U.S. goal of landing men on the moon in this decade.

Wednesday the Saturn 1 performed flawlessly on its first full-scale test flight, propelling into orbit a 37,700-pound satellite, the world's heaviest. For the first time the rocket generated full first stage thrust of 1.5 million pounds and carried a live second stage powered by liquid hydrogen.

After watching the launching on television, President Johnson issued a statement in Washington describing it as a "giant step forward for the United State space effort."

Robert Seamans, associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said he hoped the flight "will give the nation confidence that we can carry out the manned lunar landing mission in this decade and will support this important step in a continuing program."

Wernher Von Braun, chief of the Marshall Space Flight Center which is developing the Saturn rockets, said:

"We are now ahead of the Russians in cargo carrying ability. They have orbited payloads on the order of 15,000 pounds. Saturn 1 gives us the capability of orbiting 19,000 to 20,000 useful pounds."

Von Braun estimated the biggest Russian booster rocket has a thrust between 700,000 and 900,000 pounds, and he said there is no evidence the Soviets have made progress with liquid hydrogen fuel for upper stages. He cautioned that Russia's plans are shrouded in secrecy.

The United States is developing the massive 7.5 million-pound-thrust Saturn 5 to hoist three-man astronaut teams to the moon.

The Saturn 1 flight provided valuable experience in handling complex multistage rockets with gigantic power.

Six Cameras Up To Picture Moon

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The camera-laden Ranger 6 spacecraft was rocketed toward the moon today on a mission to snap and relay to earth more than 3,000 pictures of the lunary surface.

An Atlas-Agena rocket, 102 feet tall and weighing 150 tons, blazed away from Cape Kennedy at 10:49 a.m. EST to start the 804-pound gold-and-silver-plated craft on its lunar journey.

If all goes well, Ranger 6 will cover 230,187 miles in 66 hours and crash land on the moon early Sunday.

If the payload, which resembles a giant dragonfly, succeeds, it will break a string of 11 straight U.S. moon-launching failures dating to 1958. The flight is the first U.S. lunar attempt since Ranger 5 fizzled in October 1962, prompting a revamping of the program.

The Soviets have announced three moon launchings, two of them successful. Lunik 2 crashed onto the moon and Lunik 3 took the first pictures of the moon's hidden side, both in 1959.

In a 10-minute session before Ranger 6 crash-lands on the moon, its six cameras are to snap hundreds of pictures and transmit them ot a ground station at Goldstone, Calif. The cameras are to start shooting 900 miles from the moon and continue until an instant before impact.

Project officials said the pictures might enable analysts to distinguish objects on the moon the size of an automobile.

H. M. Schurmeier, Ranger project manager for the space agency's jet propulsion laboratory, said the major goal is to obtain photos of dark areas that from the earth appear to be relatively flat and therefore possible landing spots for astronauts.

More than 40 observatories around the world planned to direct telescopes at the moon in an effort to spot the Ranger 6 impact. When Russia's Lunik 2 hit, a Hungarian observatory reported sighting a dark cloud — perhaps of dust — in the vicinity of the landing area.

Medlin, 58, had fathered nine sons. Six, grown and married, were born to his former wife. Three, aged 9, 7 and 2, were at home.

Saturday Medlin died, shortly after he was admitted to a hospital.

Monday night his wife, Jean, 32, gave birth to a baby girl at the hospital. She named her Donna Jo.

Mardi Gras Days Start In Mobile

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Masked paraders take to Mobile's streets tonight as the Mardi Gras season gets under way.

A 10-float parade, sponsored by the Order of the Polka Dots, gets the annual pre-Lenten celebration under way.

Star Of Movies, Alan Ladd Dies

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —Alan Ladd, who realized a dream of driving a limousine through the same studio gate where once he had to punch a time clock, is dead at 50.

The 5-foot-6 star, who walked tall as a movie hero for 23 years, was found dead in the master bedroom of his home Wednesday. A servant who had become alarmed when the actor failed to wake up from a nap found the body.

A doctor and Police Chief Gus Kettmann said that Ladd died of natural causes, presumably a heart attack. An autopsy has been ordered.

Ladd, except for a butler, had been alone in his desert home for the last 10 days. His wife, the former actress Sue Carol, was at the couple's West Los Angeles home.

"I talked with Alan three times Tuesday," she said. "He seemed in fine spirits as always. It's a terrible shock."

Curb On Cancer Quacks Proposed

LANSING (AP) — Legislation to control the activities of cancer quacks was proposed Wednesday by Rep. Lucille Mc Collough, D-Dearborn.

The measure would establish a cancer advisory council to the state health commissioner to investigate cancer quackery. Members would be five physicians, A dentist and three other persons, at least one an attorney.

Public Panels For GOP Urged By Eisenhower

DETROIT (AP)—Republicans over the nation had before them today a proposal from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower that they establish "Party-to-People panels to conduct forums, public discussions and round-tables all across the country."

The proposal came in a Detroit speech last night which highlighted a GOP fund-raising dinner that attracted some 3,000 at $100 a plate. The speech was piped by closed-circuit television into 20 such gatherings elsewhere.

The Republican former president suggested "United Statesmanship" as a name for his plan and warned that "it is time we go directly to the people with the nation's major problems."

Political Education Needed

"Clear it is," he continued, "that we Republicans have a pressing need for an all-out, nationwide action program of political education.

"The principal task of each panel would be to arouse interest and to teach. . . I suggest that the members of each panel should include not only our own party's experts, but also leaders in other fields. . . They could not fail to generate widespread interest and a chain reaction of increasingly active and informed political discussion."

A spokesman for the Republican State Central Committee said a similar plan had been under discussion for use in Michigan this election year.

In addition to advocating "Party-to-People" forums, the former president said Republican needed to open in their Washington headquarters a "Suggestion Center for a Better America."

"To this center," he explained, "every citizen would be invited to contribute his views on the most pressing issues of the day.

Romney's Talk Heard

"It would be most important that the early results of these efforts be assembled in time to reach our 1964 platform committee well in advance of the convention, so they could be directly reflected in a Republican peoples' platform."

Eisenhower told an afternoon gathering of GOP county chairmen that "we've got to do something to attract people" and that "political success is not found just in the pocketbook."

He said he had "not the slightest idea" who would be the Republican nominee for president, but added that the party has "several capable, sincere men of integrity" in the field.

At one point in his off-the-cuff afternoon talk, Eisenhower used what virtually has become a text for Republican Gov. George Romney. The former president urged "citizen participation actively in the political party of their choice."

Romney spoke last night to a Republican fund-raising dinner in Washington, D. C., similar to that addressed by Eisenhower in Detroit.

Jet Plane Force In Japan To Be Cut Down By US

TOKYO (AP) — The United States is withdrawing a squadron of 20 F102 jet fighters from Japan to the United States before July 1.

The United States announced on Dec. 31 that it planned to withdraw 3,500 Air Force personnel and 2,000 dependents from Japan in a major realignment of its air strength in the Far East.

Detroit River Recreation Site Runs Into Snag

LANSING (AP)—Plans for a $30 million recreation area in the Detroit River hit some serious snags Wednesday and touched off the first floor skirmish of the young legislative session.

In moving into a position for final House action, a bill asking state permission for a vital landfill next to Canada's Peach Island picked up an amendment which cast doubt over whether the proposed island playground and marina will ever be built.

One of three investors, E. J. Harris of Detroit, said after the House session that he will confer with his partners and backers on whether the amendment might scotch their idea.

The change, sponsored by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, strikes "land" from a clause relinquishing state interest in the now-submerged area. This could cloud the owners' rights to the artificial island they plan.

Rep. Lloyd Gibbs, R-Portland, chairman of the State Affairs Committee which reported the bill favorably to the House, fought against Spencer's amendment, but the change won, 33-24.

Earlier Wednesday, before a Senate committee considering a duplicate bill, Rep. John Sobieski, D-Detroit, demanded a lump sum cash payment to the state.

"I want to see a dollar value covering the public trust we are relinquishing, and I want it written into the bill and I want the developers to have to pay," he told the open Senate hearing.

New Bill Cramps House Salesmen

LANSING (AP)—A bill drops into the legislative hopper today which could cramp the style of the door-to-door supersalesmen who talk housewives into buying things they can't afford.

The bill by Sen. Charles Youngblood, D- Detroit, would allow four days during which the man of the house could help decide whether to close the deal.

The buyer could rescind the contract within four days unless the goods had been delivered to the home, and the seller would have to make a full refund or face misdemeanor charges.

"This is our way of putting into law the old saying that a woman always has a right to change her mind," said Youngblood.

Details Meager In Attack Fatal To 3 Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department authorities said today it is up to Moscow to make the next move in the U.S.-Soviet dispute over an American training plane downed by the Soviets in East Germany.

Without some Soviet help the U.S. government may never know precise details about the incident Tuesday that cost the lives of three U.S. Air Force officers, they said.

Washington and Moscow traded protests Wednesday. The Kremlin sent a note saying a Soviet fighter downed the T39 jet trainer about 60 miles inside Communist East Germany after the plane failed to heed warning signals. The note accused the U.S. military of "gross provocation" by intruding into Communist air space.

Craft Unarmed

The State Department charged the Soviets with "a callous and inexcusably brutal act of violence against an unarmed aircraft that accidentally strayed over the demarcation line between West and East Germany."

It demanded U.S. access to the plane wreckage and recovery of the fliers' bodies, and punishment of "those responsible for the shooting down of the aircraft and the killing of these men."

Asst. Secretary of State William Tyler called in the ranking Soviet diplomat available, Georgi M. Kornienko, and gave him the U.S. rejoinder orally.

Kornienko told newsmen afterward, "I did not accept the protest." He termed the U.S. flight deliberate, saying, "We have all grounds to believe that this was not an error or a mistake."

State Department authorities took the line that Kornienko had in fact received the protest because he listened to it, and that it is up to the Soviets to respond whether or not Washington decides to follow through with a written note.

They said representatives from the U.S. military mission at Potsdam, East Germany, had been prevented from going closer than 200 yards to the plane wreckage.

The incident was described by U.S. sources as serious but not as provocative, from the standpoint of East-West relations, as the Soviet shooting of a U.S. RB47 reconnaissance plane over the Barents Sea in 1960. The United States said that plane was attacked over international waters.

Who ordered the attack on the jet trainer was not known here. There was some speculation that the decision may have been made by a local commander.

FROM GRAND RAPIDS

South Viet Nam Junta Out; New Regime Set Up

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, a 37-year-old army corps commander, became a virtual dictator of South Viet Nam today in a swift, bloodless coup. He pledged to "smash the Communists and the traitors who advocate neutralism."

A new council of generals took shape to help him run the country and the U.S.-backed war against Red guerrillas.

Khanh dissolved the old government and clapped four key generals of that regime in jail. Three of them were charged with plotting with France to neutralize South Viet Nam. French President Charles de Gaulle has advocated neutralization of both North and South Viet Nam.

The fate of Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, chairman of the junta that had ruled Viet Nam since the destruction of President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime last Nov. 1, was uncertain. Minh was not arrested with the other generals and there was a possibility he would be kept on as technical chief of state.

Saigon's civilian population took the upheaval in stride. People went about their business as usual.

Saigon radio announced: "The standing committee of the revolutionary military committee formed on Nov. 1 last year lacked the ability to deal with the nation's internal and external problems and therefore has been dissolved. The new chairman of the standing committee is Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, commander of the 1st Corps. This decision is effective today, Jan. 30."

Khanh also apparently promoted himself so he would outrank the other generals in the army. He and the rest had been major generals.

Among those reported driven from power with Minh were the junta's No. 2 man and defense minister, Maj. Gen. Tran Van Don, and the No. 3 man and armed forces chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Le Van Kim.

Although rumors and conflicting reports kept the situation in confusion, they apparently were shunted aside because they were considered proponents of De Gaulle's proposal for a unified, neutralized Viet Nam.

Khanh in his seizure of power reportedly had the support of the interior minister, Maj. Gen. Ton That Dinh; the information minister, Maj. Gen. Do Mau; and the 3rd Corps commander, Maj. Gen. Le Van Khiem.

Panama Peace Talks Collapse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations aimed at a peaceful solution of the U.S.-Panama dispute have collapsed and—charging aggression — Panama has called for an emergency meeting of hemisphere foreign ministers.

Miguel Moreno, Panama's ambassador to the Organization of American States, delivered a note from his government which included the conference request and the renewed charge of aggression to OAS Secretary General Jose A. Mora Wednesday night.

Said Moreno: "We have searched for a dignified solution to the controversy but unfortunately and in spite of the good offices of the Inter-American Peace Committee and our willingness we have achieved no success."

The note included one of Jan. 9 by Panama Foreign Minister Galileo Solis in which he said "the Republic of Panama has been the victim of an unprovoked armed attack against its territory and civil population made by the armed forces of the United States of America stationed in the Canal Zone."

President Johnson has met this accusation with a declaration that U.S. troops, faced by sniper fire and mob action, repelled aggression rather than committed it.

Riots in the Canal Zone led to a rupture in U.S.-Panama relations. The Inter - American Peace Committee, an arm of the OAS, has been trying to mediate the dispute. This effort ended in failure Wednesday.

Glenn Leading In Ohio Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. was running ahead today in a preference poll of Ohio county Democratic chairmen conducted by The Associated Press.

Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator in the May 5 primary against the incumbent senator, Stephen M. Young.

Those who replied to the poll showed a strong sentimental attachment to Young, but also indicated a preference for Glenn from the standpoint of practical politics.

The AP polled all 88 county chairmen and got 44 replies. Given their choice, many asked not to be identified.

Two principal questions were asked:

At this time, whom do you favor for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator, Stephen Young or John Glenn?

The replies: Glenn 27; Young 16; undecided 1.

Assuming Robert Taft Jr. is the Republican nominee, which Democratic candidate would make the better race against him?

The replies: Glenn 31; Young 4; undecided 9.

"Whom do I favor? Young for devotion. Glenn for a winner."

That comment from one chairman seemed to sum up the privately expressed views of those chairmen who welcomed the entry into politics of Glenn.

Mackinac Isle Airport Sought

LANSING (AP) — The legislature has been asked to pave the way for a year-round airport on Mackinac Island, where only an emergency landing strip is situated.

A bill introduced Wednesday would empower the Mackinac Island State Park Commission to expand the airstrip or lease the land for airport developments by others. This would be subject to federal approval.

The bill's co - sponsor, Rep. Joseph Gillis, D - Detroit, said the airport expansion would be subject to clarification of a legal question raised last year by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

Kelley said the landing strip could not be developed because it would violate the 1895 agreement by which the state obtained title to the park lands on Mackinac Island.

Gillis proposes that a 3,500-foot runway be built so that small twin - engined planes could use the airport.

The legislator said a similar plan received federal and state approval last year and that $148,000 in federal - state matching funds became available.

The airport proposal has won the backing of the Mackinac Island city commission. Only one member of the State Park Commission — Wilfred F. Doyle of East Lansing — has voiced opposition to the plan.

E. KENNETH FROSLID, 32, of Port Washington, N. Y., won a supreme court suit to have a 1964 World's Fair slogan removed from his auto license plates. The judge ruled that Froslid, upon application, is to be provided with plates which do not carry the fair advertising. The state will appeal the decision. (AP Wirephoto)

A native of Escanaba whose career in bringing to justice members of the international narcotics crime ring reads like pages from crime fiction has been promoted to the position of Deputy Commissioner of Narcotics in Washington, D. C.

He is George H. Gaffney, who was born in Escanaba on Aug. 19, 1921, and graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1944.

During World War II he was a member of the submarine service and later served as staff aid and flag lieutenant to the commanding admiral of the U. S. Naval Forces in Europe.

In 1949, having resigned his commission, he was appointed an undercover agent with the Federal Bureau of Narcotics in New York City. In 1955 he was appointed district supervisor of the southeastern states with headquarters at Atlanta, Ga.

He was made district supervisor for the New York and New Jersey area in 1958, where he directed, among others, the investigation which led to the arrest and conviction of the notorious Vito Genovese, alleged overlord of the Mafia. heroin, the largest such seizrested Mauricio Rosal, the Guatemalan ambassador to the Netherlands and Belgium, seizing over 100 kilograms of pure heroin the largest such seizure ever made in this country or abroad.

He directed the investigations leading to the conviction of the notorious Mafia hoodlum, Joseph Valachi, for violation of the Federal narcotics law.

After he was sentenced to 20 years in prison, Valachi decided to reveal his life of crime and immediately sent for Gaffney. The Bureau of Narcotics subsequently brought the entire story to the attention of Attorney General Robert Kennedy and this ultimately led to the much publicized senatorial hearings.

Last year Gaffney was appointed assistant to the commissioner at Bureau headquarters in Washington, and was moved to the position of Deputy Commissioner in the Federal Bureau of Narcotics recently, succeeding Charles Siragusa.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaffney and their three children reside at 7400 Lakeview Drive, Bethesda, Md.

Kiwanis Group Aids Prisoners

Volunteer group counseling at Marquette Prison was the unique and interesting subject of a talk by John J. Mitchell at a meeting of the Better Hearing and Speech Society in the Chamber of Commerce Building last night. The counseling group of eight Escanaba Area men is sponsored by the Business and Public Affairs Committee of the Escanaba Kiwanis Club.

One night a week without fail from fall until spring these mem travel to Marquette to meet with prisoners who have voluntered to attend. Three classes are now in progress, made up of from 10 to 12 prisoners and two or three counselors. As men are paroled or transferred their places are filled in the classes by other men who are on a waiting list.

The principal goal of this effort is to encourage the men to discuss their personal and prison problems. Much enthusiasm is generated about many subjects in these discussions. They have shown concern for problems of people on the outside and have contributed concrete and useful suggestions toward working with these problems, Mitchell said.

The men made a survey of their own problems and submitted 17 different problems for class discussion. Occasionally a man has volunteered to speak on one of these problems in which he has a particular interest.

School dropouts have been an important problem under discussion within the classes, as many of the men list this as a major cause of their present imprisonment. Developing from these reports is a local effort toward reducing school dropouts and potential dropouts. The prison counselors and Vocational Guidance Committee of the Kiwanis Club, under the leadership of Tom Newport, are uniting their efforts in this area and have met with school authorities.

While much of the discussion is very serious, amusing experiences are related. Jim Kelly, an inmate who writes a humorous column for the prison newspaper, is quoted frequently so that conversation is well balanced.

A number of the prisoners have physical handicaps, some with hearing loss and a few wearing hearing aids. Sometimes these handicaps may have been a strong factor in the unfortunate direction of these men's lives, Mitchell said.

The most serious problem for a man released from prison is getting a job and building some kind of social life for himself.

The speaker praised Norman Kukuc, director of educationt Marquette Prison; Claude Lauscher, director of individual treatment, Marquette; and Warden Buchkoe for being sincere and dedicated prison officials, making Marquette a modle penal institution.

Kiwanians participating as volunteer counselors are John Mitchell, Victor Nelson, Tom Newport, Walter Lewke, Earl Orville Butts and Emil Christensen. Others are Bill Stenbol of Escanaba and Bob Adams and Wallace Cameron of Gladstone. The volunteer group is not reimbursed for travel expense by the prison or any agency or organization but bear the cost of these trips themselves.

Day School Now 80% Completed

The new day school for Retarded Children of Delta County is now 80 per cent completed, reports Albert J. Valind, president of the Delta County Chapter, Michigan Association for Retarded Children.

Construction of the school building is Project Pride committee sponsored and has received the cooperation of many groups, organizations and individuals of the community.

"The fund drive is keeping pace with the needs of the laborers through gifts and memorials from the general public," said Valind. "All bills have been paid promptly and no goods are purchased unless funds are available. This is possible only through the generosity of the public which has donated approximately $20,000 to date. It is estimated that about $3,000 more will be needed to finish the interior completely."

With completion of the building assured, the group is turning its attention to securing operating funds for teachers' salary and expenses that will be needed when the school opens next September, Valind said.

"Funds now being alloted by Delta United Charities will finance the school through the fiscal year which ends in June, after which there will be need of funds to operate at least from September until January 1965, at which time Delta United Charities funds may again be available," Valind said:

Contributions toward operating funds for the school continue to be received. William Veeser, vice president of sales, U. P. Power Co., has presented a check for $100 and an annuity of $50 a year; Richard Pryal, proprietor of Goodman's Drug Store donated 10 per cent of his sales the day before Christmas and will do this each year.

Other gifts include $277 from Penn-Dixie Cement Co., $10 from an anonymous donor, and a total of $248 from Rotary Club members in memorials to John F. Kennedy.

Next meeting of the Retarded Children's Association will be held in the State Office Building basement at 8 p. m. Feb. 3. All interested persons are welcome.

Nation Needs New Leadership, Romney Thinks

WAASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan Gov. George W. Romney told a Republican audience Wednesday night that "our nation needs new leadership and new goals."

Romney spoke at a Republican fund-raising dinner here. His remarks were beamed to some 30 other GOP rallies across the country via closed circuit television.

"America today is not the America that our divinely inspired forefathers envisioned," Romney said. "Mighty as it is, it is but a shadow of its promise.

"When we honestly face the deterioration in personal responsibility, individual morality, family life, public integrity and faith in American principles, it is clear our nation needs new leadership and new goals."

Romney, often mentioned as a possible GOP presidential candidate, also said that "in 1964, the $64 question is: must the American people wait for needed political leadership until the full consequences of our present excesses produce another crisis?"

Pockets Filled With Cigarettes Breaks Habit

DETROIT (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower broke the smoking habit by keeping his pockets stuffed with cigarettes.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit says Eisenhower, who was in Detroit to speak at a Republican party dinner Wednesday night, told him he was once a heavy smoker but hasn't had a cigarette in years.

"The President told me that he used to go around with cigarettes in all his pockets while he was trying to give up smoking. He would pass them out t other smokers but not touch them himself, because this gave him a feeling of accomplishplishment and superiority."

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Clergymen shouldn't smoke cigarettes, says the Rev. Dr. Billy Graham.

"The Bible does not say smoking cigarettes is a sin," said Graham. "But I think for a person to deliberately endanger his health is wrong."

The Baptist evangelist is in Houston for a layman's leadership conference.

City Hall Keeps Apple Orchard At Walker, Mich.

WALKER (AP) —This southwestern Michigan community is looking for an apple farmer to keep an eye on things around city hall.

Walker bought a 15-acre apple orchard as the site of a proposed new city hall and officials want to continue cultivating apple trees on part of the land to make some additional money.

The previous owners grossed about $3,000 last season in apple sales.

Officials have contacted about 10 farmers, but so far all have declined the city hall job, citing problems in transporting equipment to the scene.

Dreamy Driver Blames Fishing; Case Dismissed

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)— Bert Lester Brown, 62, had the right answer Wednesday when he appeared on a charge of driving the wrong way on a one-way street.

"I guess I was thinking about going fishing," Brown told Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund.

"Case dismissed," said Grund, an ardent angler.

Hannah Won't Run For Senate

DETROIT (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower left Michigan Republicans today with bolstered political spirit but without a hint of whether he favors Gov. George W. Romney over other potential candidates for the GOP presidential nomination.

Eisenhower did make an unsuccessful attempt to get an old friend, Michigan State University president John Hannah, to run for the U. S. Senate seat now held by Democrat Philip A. Hart.

In a busy 40-hour visit to Detroit, the former president met with state and county Republican officials, held private talks with key party leaders and delivered the principal address to a nationwide closed-circuit tlevision audience attending $100-a-plate dinners.

But Eisenhower carefully avoided giving any specific endorsement to Romney, who denies he is a candidate for the nomination although he is willing to accept a draft.

"I don't need to tell you of my respect for Gov. Romney," the former president told reporters. "But I really haven't decided who I would prefer. I'm not going to put my fingers on anyone."

Doctor Brings Baby By Phone

FLINT (AP) — Melvin L. Brooks delivered a baby by telephone.

There wasn't time for Jack Myers, a neighbor, to get his wife, Cynthia, to a hospital Tuesday night, and Dr. C.R. Gumpper said he couldn't get to the Myers home in time either.

Brooks, who had been called in to baby-sit with the Myers' three children, followed instructions for delivery procedure telephoned by Dr. Gumpper.

The instructions were taken by Mrs. Brooks, who in turn called them upstairs to her husband.

Brooks was assisted by Myers.

Myers said Brooks was calm all the time and added, "It's a good thing somebody was calm."

"It was a boy — a beauty." Brooks said.

The mother and baby were taken to McLaren General Hospital where they were reportea doing fine.

Ann Arbor Firm Successful In Space Rockets

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ann Arbor technicians helped send rockets aloft Tuesday night in the international Year of the Quiet Sun program to study temperatures and winds in the upper atmosphere.

Three Nike Cajun grenade rockets fired simultaneously from Wallops Island, Va., Fort Churchill, Manitoba, and Ascension Island in the South Atlantic were powered by "grenades" designed and built by Superior Engineering Co. of Ann Arbor.

A Rocket 609, or Sparrow Bee fired one hour earlier from Wallops Island carried an instrument package designed at the University of Michigan's Space-Physics Laboratory.

The Nike Cajun flights brought to 18 the number of consecutive payloads of the Superior Co.

The firm has been under contract to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration since January, 1962 and has an overall record of 28 successful firings in 30 attempts. The firm has not had a rocket failure since November, 1962.

Delta's GOP State Leader

Delta County Republicans are planning their first fund raising effort of the year after scoring state honors in 1963 for support of the party financially.

Of 13 counties which met their GOP quotas for support of state and national efforts of the party in 1963, four are in the Upper Peninsula, said John Walbridge, Delta County Republican chairman. He said that the fine work of Ralph Huhtala of Iron Mountain was influential in the U. P. leadership in fund raising.

Forrest Henslee led the successful Delta County finance campaign; Dr. Fred Sabin led Marquette over the top. Dick Smith headed the Dickinson County drive and William Johnson was head man in Gogebic County.

The Delta Republicans' first 1964 fund raising effort will be a Lincoln Day dinner at the Dells Supper Club on Saturday, Feb. 8 to be addressed by Mrs Elly Peterson, national vice chairman of the Republican Party.

Wallbridge today announced the appointment as secretary of the Delta County Republican Committee of Mrs. John O'-Brien, who succeeds William Westlund of Rock. Westlund has been appointed North Delta County area chairman.

Arabs Won't Try U. S. Smuggler

CAIRO (AP) — The United Arab Republic will not try former U.S. Embassy attache Herbert Ferguson on charges of currency smuggling, the government prosecutor announced.

Ferguson, former assistant agricultural attache at the embassy, and eight others are accused of illegally transferring 50,000 Lebanese lire (about $20,000), out of the country and with trying to smuggle 377,000 Lebanese lire (about $180,000).

Ferguson resigned last July 3 after returning to the United States.

Coal And Oil Dealers Elect First Officers

Liquid and solid fuel dealers of the Upper Peninsula elected temporary officers of their new Upper Peninsula Fuels Research, Inc., at a dinner meeting in the House of Ludington Wednesday night and set up a list of basic purposes of the new organization.

John C. Walch of Escanaba, manager of the Coleman Nee Co., was elected president; James Stang, Menominee, of Stang Truck Lines, treasurer; Hal Ternus of Marquette, representing the Marquette Oilmen's Club, vice president and Walter Diesing, Menominee, of Gustafson Oil Co., secretary.

The group, following policy of rotating meetings in the U. P., will meet next in the Dickinson Hotel, Iron Mountain, Wednesday evening, Feb. 19.

The fuel dealers reviewed Fuels Research's budget needs for an educational campaign to present the economic merits of liquid and solid fuels and decided to continue to sell stock in their non-profit corporation to create its means and to form its voting base.

It was decided to invite into membership the bottled gas dealers of the area.

The score of dealers attending the meeting were told that the fuel industry's support of the organization is proceeding in a substantial and satisfactory manner.

The basic purposes of the organization are being outlined in a statement of policy, said W. P. Oakwood, one of the organizers, as:

1. Studying the feasibility of a natural gas pipe line into the Upper Peninsula. If it is not feasible and not necessary as determined by the findings of its studies, Fuels Research will oppose grant of a franchise for the pipe line at a hearing in Washington before the Federal Power Commission, should the project develop to that stage. FPC's judgment of a pipe line project for the U. P. would consider feasibility and necessity.

2. Getting the facts on comparative costs, convenience and safety of the various fuels offered for sale in the Upper Peninsula.

3 Asking consideration of the employment, tax payments and investments of present fuel suppliers in the area before there are decisions by any municipalities to support a gas pipe line.

Home Rule For Counties Will Be Slow Process

YPSILANTI — Michigan will do well to adopt two or three county home rule charters within the next 10 years, according to Prof. Arthur W. Bromage, chairman of The University of Michigan political science department.

"County home rule means more freedom to reorganize and to conduct local government," Bromage told a regional conference of the Michigan Municipal League here.

However, he suggested that conflict is likely to break out within the 1964 session of the state legislature over home rule for counties.

The speaker explained that the delegates to the recent Constitutional Convention put county home rule on first base by authorizing it, subject to legislators' passing the necessary law.

"We are now trying to advance to second base by getting a home rule law through the 1964 session, but disagreement may arise in Lansing over the power to be granted to counties. Governor Romney recently appealed to the Michigan Association of County Supervisors to help get a bill through the Legislature."

If a county home rule law is passed, the third phase will be the election of a charter commission in particular counties. "We won't be 'home' till the first home rule charter is actually adopted by the voters in a home rule county," Bromage said.

What are the issues likely to delay Michigan's action? A county executive should be authorized, in the opinion of home rule proponents. Appointment as an alternative to election for county administrators is another controversial point. Smaller county boards of supervisors constitute another issue, Bromage said.

"Associations of county officers may oppose any law which offers such alternatives to home rule charter commissions," he pointed out. Traditionally, county officers have been popularly elected since the time of Andrew Jackson.

The idea of small boards of five or seven members may arouse opposition. County boards today are confederations of city supervisors and township supervisors.

Conflicts over power doctrine are sure to arise between counties on the one hand and cities, villages and townships on the other, Bromage continued, adding that powers for home rule counties will be scrutinized by municipalities concerned with protecting themselves.

After The Fall

If you read the American magazines this week, one of the newsworthy items forced upon your attention was the new play by Arthur Miller on Broadway, his first in 9 years.

Miller wrote "Death of a Salesman" and other plays, but he's best known to Americans as the last husband of Marilyn Monroe, the nation's No. 1 sex symbol, who took her own life with sleeping pills last year.

Marilyn is a chief figure in Miller's new play. She owns the second act of "After the Fall." She isn't called Marilyn Monroe, of course, any more than Miller is called Miller in the play. Miller is Quentin, a troubled lawyer, and Marilyn is his second wife, a blond pop singer with no talent, but with enormous value as a sex peddler.

The new Miller play is much more than just another sexy play on Broadway. It is the first offering of the new Lincoln Center Repertory Theater in New York, and it is the only play by a living author for which a theater was expressly built.

* * *

In gesture without recollected precedent, the Saturday Evening Post in its current issue publishes Miller's new play in full. Your commentator, having read it, was glad to receive the weekly news magazines for their interpretations of it, embodying the benefits of review by persons who have seen it.

The quick, leering assumption may be that Miller has drawn upon his own life for the play and that it's biographical and this seems to be completely true and obviously it will add enormously to the box office appeal of the piece, because millions will want to know what about that thing with Arthur and Marilyn. They'll get a double helping in "After the Fall."

Not only is Marilyn there, but so is Miller's first wife, Mary Sattery, a fellow student at the University of Michigan, and his family, which lost its money in the depression, the way that of the central character in the play does.

Time Magazine says that the Furies who pursue the playwright in the play are his mother—whose ticket to college was cancelled by her family's decision to marry her to a shipping merchant whom she regarded as an inferior—and his first two wives. His third wife, Inge Morath, an Austrian photographer, is also in the play.

* * *

In his marriage to Marilyn each weds his greatest shortcoming: he his incapacity for affection, she her lack of learning. The marriage dissolves in drugs and drinking and ends in suicide, but the drama fails to achieve the essence of tragedy because Quentin-Miller, when his play poses the theme that life is unbearable, proposes a solution that consists of finding a new woman and starting over.

But while the audience may and probably does dispute Miller's moral conclusions, it will certainly acknowledge the jolting impact of his play.

Newsweek says "Dramatically, 'After the Fall' was a disappointment. Miller is admirable for his sensitive awareness that every human has a sense of face that must be honored, but here it was embarrassing to feel that he was laboring to save his own."

Time says "The hero of 'Fall' says 'You have got to start facing the consequences of your actions,' but he never lives by that precept."

The most auspicious event of national drama of the year thus emerges in first judgment as an effort at self-justification by a gifted playwright. Maybe we can be thankful that its staging is so tricky and complex that it will never be around on the high school circuit for reasons other than its obsession with sex.

Even Chickens!

The pressures of modern living seem to be getting heavy for more and more of us.

With seemingly no way out, it now appears that even chickens seem to be caught up in our pressurized living.

At least, this is what you might conclude in light of the results of two researchers at the University of Arizona. They find that by giving chickens aspirin, they'll lay more eggs.

In two tests involving 180 white leghorns, the scientists added aspirin to a poultry ration. Results: Six per cent more eggs.

Why?

"We don't know," say the researchers frankly.

The hens must be wondering, too.

The Doctor Says:

Cough Is Caution Signal

By Dr Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Man has been defined as a member of the ape family with a cough. The definition is never more vivid than it is in the winter months. If you have a cough that hangs on for more than three weeks, it should be regarded as chronic, and you should have your doctor find out why it has persisted.

If your cough is associated with shortness of breath, blood in the sputum, or pain in the chest, it is doubly important to have a checkup.

The more serious causes of a chronic cough are tuberculosis, lung cancer, chronic bronchitis, and valvular heart disease with beginning decompensation. Other common causes include heavy smoking (more than a pack a day) and daily exposure to smog.

If heavy smoking is the cause, don't laugh it off as just a cigarette cough. It is an indication that smoking has damaged your respiratory mucous membranes. Furthermore, if you have had the cough for a long time, it may reduce your awareness of a cause that may be reinforcing your cough.

I am sometimes asked why night air aggravates a cough. The night air does not aggravate it, but the change in posture from standing or sitting to lying down may do so.

Your cough is a symptom rather than a disease in itself; but like all symptoms it is a warning that something is wrong.

We have come to be so preoccupied with relieving or masking symptoms (pain, depression, etc.) that we often forget the protective value of the symptom as a warning.

Cough remedies to suppress your cough should certainly be taken when you are seized with a fit of coughing in public or when coughing interferes with your sleep, but they are no substitute for discovering and treating the cause.

There are literally hundreds of cough remedies available. Old-fashioned hard candy with or without glycerin as an ingredient will soothe the irritated mucous membranes of the throat. Most of the older cough syrups contained codeine which suppresses the cough reflex. There are now many non - narcotic drugs that are just as effective

One of the most valuable recent contributions to the treatment of coughs due to emphysema, pneumonia, tuberculosis, and chronic bronchitis is acetylcysteine (Mucomyst).

Given by inhalation as an aerosol, it liquefies thick mucous secretions otherwise hard to raise, which by their very presence in the lungs cause coughing. Once liquefied, they can be coughed up and expectorated. The action of this drug is prompt and effective.

Steady as She Goes

Washington Comment

WASHINGTON— (NEA) — When the victorious U.S. Davis Cup tennis team dropped by the White House for a brief chat, President Johnson had an orange drink served. After explaining that the drink was noncarbonated, he said: "I've got to watch my calories. So this stuff is all I take during the day, except for an occasional pot of Sanka coffee."

Just then, an aide phoned to notify the President of his afternoon appointments. Johnson listened for a few seconds, then barked: "The ones at 3:30 and 4:00 are O.K. But you'll have to cancel the early one. That's when I'm eating lunch."

Hanging up the phone, he mused: "I just don't see how they think I can survive without a good lunch."

Don Clausen and Del Clawson, California Republican congressmen who pronounce their names the same, are quite used to getting each other's mail and telephone calls. But it's still difficult when they get mixed up in public appearances.

Accepting an invitation to Michigan Gov. George Romney's National Press Club speech, Don was puzzled to find he was the only non-Michigan congressman at the head table. Del, a Mormon and close friend of Romney, was probably wondering why he hadn't received an invitation.

Three days later the two were sitting side by side while Press Club President Bryson Rash was introducing the distinguished guests at a lunch for New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. And naturally Rash announced: "Out in the audience, Congressman Clawson from California."

After a brief pause, Don yielded: "Go ahead, Del. It's your turn to take the bow."

* * *

NASA Administrator James Webb, widely admired in government circles, nevertheless takes a constant ribbing as a "nonstop talker."

On one of his recent speaking forays, says a friend, "he gave his prepared talk and then gave two other talks on top of that."

A Midwest man who had his first exposure to Webb said: "Talking to him is like trying to take a sip from a fire hydrant."

* * *

The day after Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., still limping from an operation on his right foot, blasted the U.S. long - range missile program, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller appeared at Washington's National Press Club for a speech and questions.

The governor answered all but one of a host of wideranging questions. The one he didn't answer:

"If Sen. Goldwater's other foot were free, would he put it in his mouth, too?"

* * *

When John P. Roche, national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, referred to possible "civil disobedience" in the civil rights field at a recent press conference, a reporter asked him:

"Would you be good enough to discuss the whole question of civil disobedience, starting back with the original theories of Henry Thoreau?"

Roche, who gives many lectures on political theories as a political science professor at Brandeis University, replied: "No, I won't. You haven't paid any tuition."

Memory Lane

By J. R. LOWELL

Ten Years Ago

William G. Sullivan, 708 S. 11th St., C&NW train dispatcher here since 1912, will retire from the service on Feb. 1. Mr. Sullivan began working for the railroad as telegrapher and depot agent at Powers in 1907.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cholette, of 210 S. Sixth St., members of a widely known Delta county pioneer family are observing their golden wedding anniversary today.

Mrs. John Luecke, of 814 S. 14th St., and her son Conrad, who is a senior at Albion College, have returned from Jamaica and Haiti, where they spent the Christmas holidays.

Twenty Years Ago

The recent extremely mild weather now prevailing was emphasized today by Archie Vrooman of Gladstone, who brought in a lilac branch to the Daily Press office. Buds on the branch were swelling in the manner of early spring.

Delta county's goal for production from farm woodlots in 1944 is about 51 million feet, it was learned after government agencies in Washington had outlined a plan to get the greatest possible production in the next two months.

Grant Robbins, 77, an old time saw mill sawyer who operate at Wells for many years, died today at Milwaukee, where he had gone to live.

Thirty Years Ago

Eric Snell, of Kipling, has been appointed county supervisor of Brampton Township, to succeed Noble Kee, who recently resigned because of press of other duties.

Robert F. Pryal, Escanaba insurance man, was elected secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula State Fair at a meeting of the fair board yesterday.

Now that whiskey may be purchased on a legal basis, those who like their liquor are confronted with prohibitive prices for the stuff. State liquor control officials state that this "gouging" must stop and that there is no reason why a quart of real liquor cannot be purchased for $1.90.

NOW HAS A REASON

NICHOLASVILLE, Ky. (AP)— Mrs. Nellie Stinnette always has disliked gambling.

When she and John Fain tied in an election for Jessamine County magistrate, the two consented to let the race be decided on the flip of a coin — best two out of three.

Twice straight she lost the toss.

Mrs. Stinnett still dislikes gambling.

BLIND CORNERS

Your article concerning automobile accidents in Escanaba requires a word of protest, particularly at the point where you say "If there was one outstanding driver failure it was failing to yield the right of way--plain lack of courtesy."

Now, I have not been involved in an accident in Escanaba—not yet. But I can prophesy how this accident will occur, as it almost certainly will; it will occur because I will drive into the path of an oncoming car, or another driver will drive into mine. This will almost certainly occur because Escanaba has more blind intersections than any town I've driven in. I can hardly be blamed for lack of courtesy if I drive into the path of car I can't see until I enter the intersection.

And these blind intersections are so utterly unnecessary. In large measure they exist because trees are planted too close to the curb and too close to one another; and what is even more indefensible, parking is permitted too close to the corner, and even the no-parking areas now marked are violated regularly.

These conditions make for blind driving, a shame in a city with wide streets squarely laid out on a flat surface. Both of the above conditions can be speedily corrected by the city council.

Alpena School Has Bomb Scare

ALPENA (AP) — It took the 1,700 students at Alpena High School only about three minutes to get out of the building Wednesday after police received an anonymous telephone call reporting there was a bomb in the school.

Police quickly relayed the warning to school officials.

A search by city and state police and sheriff's officers turned up nothing.

U.P. Minerals Top 144 Million

Approximately $478 million worth of minerals were produced in Michigan last year to set a new state record, according to a preliminary report of the U. S. Department of the Interior.

The report, prepared in cooperation with the Michigan Conservation Department shows a $31-million gain over 1962 as the production of all major minerals, except petroleum, rose above the previous year's levels.

Iron ore remained first in value, followed by cement, copper, and petroleum. Nonmetalic minerals accounted for 57 per cent of last year's production values. Metallic minerals figured in 31 per cent of the total while mineral fuels represented 12 per cent.

Shipments of U. P. iron ore increased to 10.5 million long tons, jumping in value from $85.6 million to nearly $98.2 million. Most of the advance was due to bigger shipments of higher-grade ore pellets and concentrates turned out at beneficiation plants.

Cement production climbed to a value of almost $82 million, some $4.4 million above the 1962 mark. The state's copper output edged upward to 75,185 tons for a value of $46.3 million Last year's oil yield dropped more than one million barrels below 1962, carrying a value of $45.7 million.

Other mineral production values for 1963 included: Sand and gravel $42.4 million; salt, $33.7 million; stone, $30.5 million; lime, $17.7 million; natural gas, $6.6 million; gypsum, $4.9 million; peat, $2.5 million; and clays, $2.1 million.

Last year's output of silver manganiferous ore and chemicals derived from brines came to a value of $65 million.

First use of nickel plating on an automobile was made in 1906.

Romney To Talk At Dedication Of Generator

Gov. George W. Romney will be the main speaker at ceremonies Friday, Feb. 7, marking dedication of Upper Peninsula Generating Co.'s new No. 3 Unit at the Presque Isle Station near Marquette.

Governor Romney's address will follow at 12:30 luncheon at Northern Michigan University Center, Marquette, attended by company directors, officials and guests. Formal dedication of this third and largest generating unit of Upper Peninsula Generating Co., which is owned jointly by Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. and Upper Peninsula Power Co., is scheduled at the plant site at 2:45 p. m. when Governor Romney will unveil a plaque. The facility will be blessed by the Rev. John Alford, pastor of the St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Marquette. Following the ceremonies guests will be escorted on guided tours through the plant to see how electricity is made from coal.

On Saturday an open house for the public will be held and guided tours will be conducted from 10 a. m. until 6:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served throughout the day and visitors will have an opportunity to register for the attractive electrical appliances being given as door prizes. It has been pointed out that, since the plant will be in full operation, children under 14 years of age must be accompanied by their parent. Also, as a safety measure, women are urged not to wear high heels.

The Presque Isle Station, the largest steam electric generating plant in the Upper Peninsula, began operation in 1955 with a single unit having a capacity of 22,000 kilowatts and capable of providing approximately 153 million killowatt hours of electricity per year. When demands for power by industrial, commercial and domestic customers increased, a second unit of 37,500 killowatts was installed in 1962. With each of the owners entitled to a 50 pct. share of the output, further studies indicaed that additional amounts of elecric power were needed both for the Power Co.'s system and for the Iron Co.'s low-grade iron ore development program. To meet these needs, installation was ordered of the third and largest unit, with a capacity of 58,400 killowatts. It increases the total capability of the plant to over 800 million killowatt hours per year — or over five times its original capacity in 1955.

Fish Producers Will Keep Name

PETOSKEY (AP)—The Michigan Fish Producers Association wrapped up its winter meeting here Tuesday with calls for legislative help on import and research problems facing Great Lakes fishermen.

Roy Jensen of Escanaba, executive secretary, said members rejected a proposal to change the organization name to the Great Lakes Fish Producers Association. The group has more than 500 members in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio and Ontario.

Among resolutions adopted today was one urging Congress to reduce quotas on the amount of chubs, whitefish, smelt and perch to be imported from Canada.

Others asked the state to return to the original dates of Nov. 4-Dec. 5 for a closed season on whitefish instead of the present dates of Oct. 15-Dec. 12; requested the Great Lakes fisheries to ease restrictions on lake trout fishing in Lake Superior to permit more "research fishing," and urged the Food and Drug Administration to permit processing of American fish into the so-called fish protein, or fish flour, a food supplement added to diets in some foreign countries.

Tool Exemptions In Taxes Urged

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, has proposed that the state eliminate the property tax on certain manufacturing tools to improve Michigan's business climate.

Although the measure would cause a $4 million loss in local property tax revenues, this would be more than recovered with improved business climate, Bursley said. Ohio and Wisconsin have the exemption.

Dies, jigs, fixtures, molds, patterns and gauges—all manufacturing equipment that must be changed often to accommodate model changes—would be exempted.

Coffee grounds have little actual fertilizer value. They do, however, add organic matter to the soil and enough grounds help to make it friable. Their reaction to the soil is slightly acid.

Widow Has Cry On Anniversary

Dear Ann Landers: My husband died 13 years ago. Yesterday would have been our 50th wedding anniversary, had he lived.

I tried to keep myself occupied all day so I wouldn't think about it. Everything went well until about 4 p. m. when a department store delivery truck pulled up in the driveway. A close friend of mine had the nerve to send me a full set of china as a golden anniversary gift. I was shocked at first, then just plain hurt. I cried all night.

This morning I re-packed the dishes, called the store and asked them to come and get the box. I just this minute finished talking to my son on the telephone. He said I was wrong to return the gift. Was I? How can people be so cruel? I'd like your opinion.--RESENTFUL

Dear Resentful: A woman who would send a full set of china as a gift may be mistaken but she was not trying to be cruel. Fault her judgment, but remember the gift was intended as a token of friendship.

I hope you will phone her soon or drop a note and apologize for returning the dishes. Tell her you were not thinking clearly that day and now you realize she was trying to be kind.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: We are two high school seniors who are writing about another girl in our class. We will call her Miss X, although MRS. X would be more appropriate because she is married.

Very few people know about her marriage. We happened to find out as the result of a strange coincidence which I won't take the time to go into here.

The question is this: Mrs. X's husband went into the Army shortly after the marriage. Since he was shipped overseas three months ago she has had more dates than any three girls in our class. Mrs. X is living at home with her parents and they don't have the slightest idea that she is married.

We think her husband is getting a raw deal and that he ought to know his wife is running around town like a single girl. A cousin of mine is in his outfit. Should I get the word to him?—POSSIBLE PIPELINE

Dear Possible: Keep the word to yourself. The poor guy will learn the glad tidings one of these days all by himself. When the eg does hit the fan you'll be glad you had nothing to do with it. This is not the sort of news you send to a man overseas, via a cousin or anyone else.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: Our 22-year-old daughter plans to be engaged when her fiance graduates from college in June. Something has been bothering her and she has asked me to help her decide.

The girl is attractive and has the world's sunniest disposition. She has a host of friends and no one thinks of her as handicapped. Nevertheless she had polio when she was a youngster and the disease left her with a slight limp and a shriveled arm.

Her fiance wants to buy her an engagement ring. She doesn't know whether or not she wants a ring because it is her left arm that is crippled. Although she has never been self conscious she would not like to call attention to her deformity by wearing an engagement ring. May we have your opinion—Q. T.

Dear Q. T.: Your daughter should not hesitate to accept an engagement ring. If she would be more comfortable about wearing the ring on her right hand by all means suggest that she do so.

Lansing Chosen For New School Of Osteopathy

LANSING (AP) — A central location and nearby educational facilities prompted the choice of the Lansing area for the new $30 million Michigan University of Ostepathic Medicine, said the site committee of the State Osteopathic Association.

Detroit, Flint, Saginaw, Muskegon, Battle Creek and Grand Rapids also sought the institution, which will include an osteopathic school, nursing school, medical research building and a 300 to 600 bed hospital.

The actual 105 - acre building site, about three miles south of Michigan State University and east of Holt, was donated by Daniel and Virginia Holloway of Detroit.

Valentine Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you're planning to bake a cake for someone you love who loves chocolate, then you might enjoy trying this spanking new recipe.

This chocolate cake roll may be made ahead and frozen. When you're ready to serve it, and it's definitely party fare, just take it out of the freezer and offer it pronto. No thawing necessary; it will slice perfectly. If you haven't a freezer, refrigerate the cake after adding the cream filling and frosting.

How did this new recipe happen? We happened to complain to a home-economist friend that so many chocolate rolls crack during the rolling process. She wagered she could get around this hurdle. She did, and here's her roll, with nary a break.

Chocolate Valentine Roll

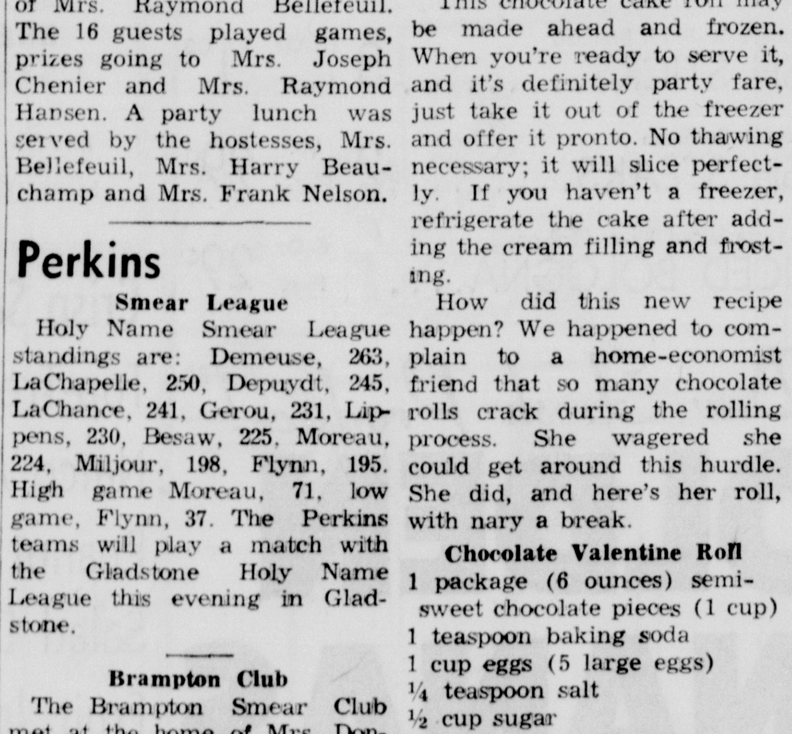
1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate pieces (1 cup)
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup eggs (5 large eggs)
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup sifted cake flour
Confectioners' sugar
Cream Filling and Frosting

Grease a 15 by 10 by 1-inch jelly roll pan; line bottom with waxed paper. Melt chocolate over hot, not boiling, water; remove from heat and stir in soda. Beat eggs with salt until they begin to thicken; gradually beat in sugar; continue beating if necessary until thick and lemon-colored. Beat in cold water and vanilla. Turn melted chocolate into mixing bowl over egg mixture. Sift flour over mixture in 4 parts, folding in after each addition; then continue folding until chocolate is thoroughly blended. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 15 minutes, or until cake springs back when pressed lightly. Turn out immediately onto clean dish towel heavily sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Starting at short end, roll up cake along with towel. Place on wire rack to cool.

Cream Filling and Frosting

2 cups heavy cream
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup quick chocolate flavored mix

Whip 1 cup of the cream until almost stiff; gradually beat in sugar and vanilla. Carefully unroll cake and spread with sweetened whipped cream; roll up again. Whip remaining 1 cup cream until stiff; beat in ½ cup of the chocolate flavored mix. Frost roll, reserving ¼ cup of mixture. Stir remaining ¼ cup chocolate flavored mix into reserved mixture; put in pastry tube. Make double-heart design on frosted roll. Refrigerate until ready to serve. Roll may be frozen, and may be served unthawed. Makes 8 servings.



VALENTINE DESSERT — This Chocolate Roll may be served chilled or frozen.

Working Safety Standards Code Changes Sought

The American Society of Safety Engineers has asked the Federal Government revise safety and health standards for U S. industry, according to Marvin W. Pearson, safety engineer with Employers Mutuals of Wausau, and an Escanaba member of the society.

The Society has recommended that the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division of the U. S. Department of Laber revise the safety and health standards published by the Department in December, 1960. and proposed revisions published in October, 1963. The Society also recommended that an advisory board be created to consult with the Department when future revisions of the standards are necessary.

The safety and health standards are mandatory regulations adopted under authority of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, first passed in 1936, Pearson said. This act applies to any employer who has a contract to provide goods or services to the government in amounts exceeding $10,000, The act requires that "no part of such a contract be performed in factories or buildings in which unsanitary or hazardous working conditions exist."

Until January, 1961, the act called for compliance with state safety regulations. In that year, a detailed set of standards was issued containing rigid and specific requirements for manufacturing facilities.

Industry, fearing the loss of government contracts through violations of the published standards, or faced with staggering costs in order to fully comply with the letter of the standards, many of which are considered inadequate by industry, has urged the Labor Department to revise or withdraw the standards entirely. As a result of proposals from industry and other organizations, a revised set of standards was proposed in 1963, to become effective in January, 1964.

The Society statement does not attempt to make a detailed review of the exact wording of the standards. Two broad recommendations were made, however.

1. The Society proposed that the standards be carefully studied and revised to provide maximum flexibility in the control of hazardous or dangerous conditions to meet the variety of operations conducted by the 95,000 private contractors subject to the act. Provision should be made for technological improvements, ingenuity of individual contractors and up-to-date revisions in voluntary and advisory standards and codes produced by competent industrial and professional associations.

2 The Society recommends that an advisory board be created, composed of persons of competence in the elimination of unsanitary, hazardous or dangerous working conditions, representing interested and affected groups. The purpose of the board would be to act as a consultant when future revisions of the standards are neccessary or whe it can be of assistance in the betterment of the administrative and enforcement procedures.

Immediate responsibilities of the proposed board would be the examination of the procedure for the preparation of safety and health standards; examination of the relationships of these standards to those of other governmental jurisdictions; study of the administration and enforcement of these standards to insure that the rights of all those affected are protected; examination of the methods of measuring performance; and a report of its findings and recommendations to the Secretary of Labor within a reasonable time.

The American Society of Safety Engineers was founded in 1911 in New York City. It has 80 chapters throughout the U S. and in Canada, including a Milwaukee Chapter composed of Wisconsin members.

Home Rule Bill Passage Asked

LANSING (AP)—Key legislators agreed with Gov. George W. Romney they should try to pass county home rule legislation this session.

The enabling legislation is needed to provide a basic framework for the county home rule provisions of the new state constitution.

Agreement on the need for speedy action was reached after top lawmakers and Romney were handed a report from a special study committee on home rule appointed by the governor.

It also was agreed that county home rule, which would permit the people of a county to reorganize their government according to their desires, should not be limited to counties of a specific population class but should apply to all counties.

"We did not write a bill and we do not intend to," said committee chairman Horace Hodge. "This is just a hunting license for a better type or form of county government.

"These are the guidelines," said Hodge, immediate past president of the State Association of Supervisors. "If the legislature wants to change them, that's their job."

Spokesmen from Wayne County agreed with a comment by Romney that the state's largest county particularly needs speedy action on the home rule issue to effect county reorganization.

County spokesmen said they are shooting for election of a charter commission this fall and submission of a proposed new charter to the voters in the fall of 1965.

Adviser Quits At White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur Schlesinger Jr. Tuesday became the second key White House adviser to the late President Kennedy to submit his resignation to President Johnson.

Schlesinger will leave the White House staff March 1.

Asst. press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said Schlesinger plans to write a book about the "Kennedy years." A noted historian, he was on the Harvard faculty before joining Kennedy's staff as special assistant.

Theodore C. Sorenson, Kennedy's special White House counsel, submitted his resignation earlier to take effect at the end of February.

Schlesinger's letter of resignation was dated Jan. 25. In a reply letter dated today, Johnson said he accepted the resignation "with much regret."

The earth is estimated to contain 6,586 quintillion tons of matter.

World Trip On Freighter Described For Club

Mrs. Gordon Hughes, of East Lansing, former Manistique resident and Women's club president, Tuesday afternoon described her 6-month tour around the world aboard a freighter for the Women's club in Augustana Hall.

Mrs. Hughes' husband was sales manager for Inland Lime and Stone Co. prior to his death in 1946. She has made four trips to Europe since leaving Manistique, three to Mexico and one to the Bahamas. The trip aboard the freighters began in Brooklyn in November, 1962, just 16 months after her return from a 10-month visit in Europe.

Physical comforts aboard the Norwegian freighter, taken at Brooklyn, were "delightful," Mrs. Hughes said as she described the trip down to Norfolk, then near Cuba, "where planes and ships were patrolling extensively) through the Panama Canal zone, up the "idyllic" coast of Mexico to Los Angeles and San Francisco and then across the Pacific.

Dutch Take Wealth

As background on the Indonesia problem, Mrs. Hughes noted the Dutch when they left, (after protest of their colonial-status return) took the capital wealth with them, with the result natural resources are not being developed. Thus Batavia, a once proud Dutch city has many poor.

Many enlist in the powerful Army because men are well fed. Russia has given them a Navy. Much money has been spent for pools, a coliseum and other accommodations for the Asiatic games which probably should have been spent for basics such as a hospital, the speaker noted.

At Manila, Mrs. Hughes joined her son, David, who is with CARE and spent a few days touring with him before leaving for the Orient. Sights in the Philippines included rice terraces not as productive as they would be with fertilizers. Workmen believe in "fertility gods" and do not use commercial fertilizers, she explained. Beautiful wood carvings and sweet potatoes are among products. Teachers cook cornmeal mush, obtained from U. S. surplus for students in hot lunch programs. The islands have 26,000 schools. Reconstituted milk can not be used extensively as children are not accustomed to it.

"The flag means much to these people and even in schools which do not have flags (70 per cent of them don't), the school day opens with a flag ceremony and singing of the national anthem. Traffic must stop as the children sing the anthem, even at an empty flagpole", she said.

Children In Mills

Hong Kong area resettlements, for those escaping from Communist China were included in the next leg of the trip, as well as Bangkok, where Mrs. Hughes saw children and women working in silk mills. There are no laws regulating hours or employment of children, she stated.

Eating exotic foods, visiting shrines such as those of Buddha in the Orient, difficulty with Oriental sign reading, and the fun and freedom of "traveling along and liking it" were included in the account.

Mrs. A. J. Cayia Sr. introduced Mrs. Hughes, who is a graduate of Boston University and Michigan State. Mrs. William Corson, introduced Christine Mathson, who played piano selections. An attractively-appointed tea with Mrs. E. J. Thompson as chairman followed.

During the business meeting a report was read on the successful Christmas basket project and Mrs. Matthew Stram reported on plans to again collect used nylon hosiery to aid Japanese war widows, who make other articles from the threads, after unravelling. The stockings may be left with Mrs. Stram or at the Escanaba Daily Press office or may be brought to the club's meeting. The next is Feb. 25.

Hospitals Ban Cigaret Sales

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of several states have banned the sale of cigarettes in some government buildings, including hospitals.

They cite reports by the U.S. surgeon general, and private research, on the health hazards of smoking cigarettes.

Some private hospitals also have ordered cigarette vending machines removed. Miriam Hospital in Providence, R. I., put up signs saying: "We do not sell cigarettes. We love you too much."

In many areas, public officials ordered strict enforcement of laws, some decades old, against selling cigarettes to minors.

The National Association of Broadcasters, meeting in Florida, is expected to amend its code of self-regulation to forbid programs or commercials that might tend to encourage young people to smoke.

The major television and radio networks have said they are reviewing their policies on commercials.

A servey by The Associated Press indicated today that efforts by government officials to discourage smoking by educational campaigns are fairly widespread. Outright bans of cigarette sales are less prevalent.

Public Health hospitals in Massachusetts have been ordered to discontinue sales of cigarettes in canteens and to remove vending machines.

Pennsylvania banned cigarette sales in its four hospitals for tuberculosis and is considering banning them in the state's general and mental hospitals.

California's Public Health Department banned cigarette vending machines from all its buildings last July after a state report on smoking hazards.

The University of Minnesota's hospitals and the Rochester (N.Y.) Institute of Technology have banned cigarette machines.

New York State and California are among the states that plan to tell school children about the hazards of smoking.

Call To Wreck Planes Hopeful

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. officials have rejected a Soviet call for destruction of all the world's bomber fleets. But they were hopeful it signified a Russian interest in an American suggestion to keep obsolete bombers from smaller nations.

The bomber proposal was put forth at the Geneva disarmament conference Tuesday by Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin. Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster said he would like to discuss it in detail.

The State Department in Washington said any move to destroy the bombers of all nations was neither acceptable nor practical.

But it expressed hope Tsarapkin's proposal meant the Russians would look with favor on an informal suggestion Secretary of State Dean Rusk made to Soviet officials in Moscow last summer. Rusk suggested that big powers destroy nuclear bombers as they became obsolete lest they fall into the hands of non-nuclear nations.

Rusk suggested destruction on a one-for-one basis of U.S B47s and Soviet Badger bombers. His suggestion would not apply to such supersonic bombers as the U.S. B58A and the Soviet Bounder.

Junior College Honors E. N. Cole

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand Rapids Junior College celebrated its 50th anniversary Tuesday by bestowing its first distinguished alumni award on Edward N. Cole, a General Motors vice president.

Cole, who attended Grand Rapids JC in 1927-28, was principal speaker at a civic dinner marking the golden anniversary.

He recalled that Grand Rapids JC was the first junior college set up in Michigan and told how its student body had grown from the original class of 49 to today's enrollment of 3,500 students.

"Two-year colleges have an important role to play in alleviating the burden of heavy enrollments at four-year institutions," he said, adding, "In addition two-year colleges offer certain programs not available at most four-year colleges. Of special importance are curricula designed to train students for careers in technical and semi-professional fields—areas in which well-trained people are in short supply."

Machines Out

MUSKEGO N (AP) — Cigarette vending machines have been removed from the Muskegon County Courthouse by Controller Mark W. Potter at the suggestion of the county's judges. The judges noted that juveniles being referred to Probate Court had in possession cigarettes apparently obtained from machines in the building.

Home Explodes At Fair Haven; 2 Families Flee

Charles Talluto and his family and Walter Priehs fled their homes after an explosion demolished a home owned by Frank Bertram of Lincoln Park. The Talluto home was damaged severely.

Dealer To Buy Old Hudson Site

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit auto dealer Russ Dawson has agreed to buy the site of the old Hudson Motor Car Co., it was disclosed Wednesday.

American Motors Corp. owns the 19-acre site, where a Hudson plant once employed 13,000 persons. Purchase price was not disclosed. AMC was asking $500,000 in 1962.

Dawson reportedly planned to use the site for an auto sales and service center and possibly other retail outlets.

Inland Beach Park Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Efforts to provide a mile of public beaches in the Indiana dunes area were announced Wednesday by Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind.

The proposal calls for the beach portion of property owned by the Inland Steel Co. to be turned over to local government operation.

Hartke said he has been in touch with Porter County officials and company representatives in an effort to work out a plan for use of the property, located on Lake Michigan at the Porter-Lake County line. It has been included in a bill to establish the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore.

"However," Hartke said, "the property lies at the extreme western edge of the proposed area and is separated from the main body of dunes parkland by the city of Ogden Dunes and other private holdings."

Under his proposal, he added, Inland would retain the greater part of the land for industrial development and turn over the beach to local government authorities for public use.

Ansul Chemical Changes Name To Cover Diversity

MARINETTE — Stockholders of Ansul Chemical Co., have voted to change the firm's corporate name to the Ansul Co. President Robert C. Hood said the change reflects the broad scope of the company's present operations. Ansul now manufactures chemicals, fire equipment, refrigeration components and electrical and plastic products.

Hood said his company is looking forward to higher sales and profits in 1964. International sales, which accounted for a substantial share of company volume in 1963, will become even more important.

These gains should result, he explained, from preparations made during 1963. The preparations included acquisition of the Mason Electric Co., a Los Angeles manufacturer of electrical mechanical devices for the aerospace industries and drastically stepped up activities in international marketing.

"During 1963 we devoted a substantial part of the year to organizational planning and product development," he stated, "and we expect to begin to tap some of the promising markets for these products in 1964."

These include, he explained, a long planned entry into the field of agricultural chemicals with "Ansar" herbicides, penetration in depth of a low cost automatic fire protection system in the restaurant and institutional markets and development by the plastic products division of "new concept" fibre glass fire extinguishing equipment.

City Truck Goes Down Over Leak

Men Of 1370th Map The Globe

By DON MCKEE

TURNER AIR FORCE BASE, Ga., (AP) — Moving the Grand Bahama Island could be listed as one accomplishment for the men of the 1370th.

The shift was done on maps after the Atlantic Missile Range was surveyed by the 1370th Photo Mapping Wing of the Air Photographic and Charting Service.

This project, born of need to meet precise guidance requirements of missiles, sharpened considerably the accuracy of the Atlantic range by uncovering mapping errors.

They found Grand Bahama six miles out of position on maps then in use; Cuba misplaced by sixth-tenths of a mile and other points erroneously located on maps.

One major survey of the 1370th was charting of the North Atlantic to link accurately the North American and European continents. Covering 2,000 miles, it was accurate within .34 feet.

"It provides the basic geodetic link for our missile strategy," said Col. Kendall S. Young, commander of the 1370th.

From polar icecaps to desolate peaks in South America; from New Guinea jungles to barren Pacific atolls — the men of the 1370th measure the world, bit by bit.

Sometimes it's lonely.

"For five months I saw only one bird," said M Sgt. Thomas Fenton telling of his experiences on Greenland's icecap. Ground crews of three men usually spend about three months at a station, living in tents.

Sometimes there's too much company.

"A whole tribe of natives, painted and armed with spears, bows and arrows, surrounded our three-man station on an island near New Guinea," Col. Hugh W. Bell said.

"They were obviously disturbed about something."

So were the three Air Force crewmen.

"To ekep the tribesmen from exploding, the ground crew gave away nearly all their food," Bell said.

The end of the 1370th still have plenty of work ahead. Only about 40 per cent of the globe has been mapped.

Parish Party Marks Birthday Of Rev. Hazard

RAPID RIVER — The congregation of the Rapid River Congregational Church surprised the Rev. Charles Hazard, minister, with a birthday party. Rev. Hazard was 71 years old Sunday, Jan. 26.

The gathering was held at the church parish hall where a potluck family snupper was enjoyed. Rev. Hazard has ministered the Rapid River Church three years.

He believes in advertising, for weeks before his birthday he had a huge sign painted and hanging in his kitchen announcing "Sunday, Jan. 26." His 71 years have been filled with interesting events and many of them have included the help he has given others. In the future he will continue to serve his two churches, one in Isabella and the other in Rapid River.

When next January rolls around there will be another sign hanging in the parsonage kitchen but this one will read "Tuesday, Jan. 26."

Radiation Can Prevent Spoilage Of Farm Crops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The atomic age farmer can virtually eliminate spoilage in fruit by giving it a dose of radiation as soon as it is harvested, a government research report said Wednesday.

The Commerce Department said Atomic Energy Commission scientists had found that an irradiator mounted on a truck could be used to process 500 to 1,000 pounds of fruit an hour.

The report indicated that strawberries, grapes, peaches, tomatoes and lemons had been tested. The irradiator would cost from $297,000 to $390,000 and the annual operating cost would run from $123,000 to $252,000.

The report said the fruit can be refrigerated or packaged to retain the benefits of the irradiation.

Guest Speakers At Rapid River PTA Meeting

RAPID RIVER — The Rapid River PTA had a double feature program at its monthly meeting. Two honored guests, Mrs. Donald Fitch and Miss Mary Croteau, were present and gave highly informative talks on two different subjects.

Mrs. Fitch delivered a stimulating talk on speech correction. A speech therapist, she discussed the general background in speech difficulties. She gave her audience tips on how to help correct stammering, lisping and poor enunciation Mrs. Fitch is a pleasant speaker and provided her audience with an enlightening and entertaining talk.

Miss Mary Croteau, consultant at the State Library in Escanaba, presented a short talk on library services and suggested the idea of extending these services to the Rapid River community and surrounding area. The services would include furnishing approximately 500 books and rotating these books over a period of time. There would be a good selection of reading which would include all age levels. The people present at the meeting were very responsive to Miss Croteau's idea.

The community has shown interest by attendance at the meeting; now it needs to secure housing for the library. Several people gave their names for work on a steering committee. This committee will meet with Miss Croteau in the near future for further plans.

Mrs. Lawrence Viau is president of the association. The 10th grade mothers served the lunch with Mrs. Ronald Sundberg chairman.

Huskies Upset Northern Quint To Snap Streak

By The Associated Press

Three out-of-state teams, including 10th-ranked Loyola of Chicago, passed the century mark in totaling 313 points against Michigan opponents in college basketball Wednesday night.

Loyola swamped Western Michigan, 101-64; Defiance, Ohio, dumped Olivet, 102-57; and Findlay, Ohio, outlasted Lawrence Tech, 110-90.

The only Michigan quintet to win against an out-of-state opponet was Hope which defeated Concordia, 78-59. In another game, Michigan Tech ended an eight-game losing streak against Northern Michigan, 85-82, at Houghton.

Loyola celebrated the return of ailing star Vic Rouse in jumping to a 50-34 halftime margin over Western. The Broncos played without ace scorer Manny Newsome, who is injured. Rouse scored 12 points and grabbed nine rebounds in a 20-minute appearance. The Ramblers got 23 points each from guards Ron Miller and John Egan as they rolled to their 13th victory in 16 games. Ajac Triplett paced Western with 17 points, and Dave Anderson added 16.

Defiance handed Olivet its 11th loss in 12 games as the victors hit on 52.6 per cent of their floor shots to 32.2 per cent for the Comets. Mike Rabbers 16 points paced Olivet.

Findlay ended a two-game losing streak in whipping LIT. Al Cohill of the Oilers and Bob Alexy of the Blue Devils shared scoring honors with 27 points each. Gerry Wnuk added 20 points for LIT which now has split 20 games. Findlay has won nine of 14 contests.

A pair of free throws by substitute center Frank Wythe in the final 37 seconds gave Michigan Tech its first victory over Northern since the 1958-59 season.

Tech blew a 12-point cushion halfway through the second half and saw the lead change hands several times before Wythe connected on a one-and -one attempt. Bill Massey, who led Tech with 25 points, tossed in the last point to provide the final margin.

Dave Cade led Northern, which trailed at the half, 45-36, with 25 points. The victory was the third for Tech in 10 games. Northern stands 9-5.

Three Tigers Sign Contracts

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers received signed contracts Wednesday from outfielder Gates Brown, reserve catcher Mike Roarke and pitcher Pete Craig.

Brown batted .268 in 55 games with the Tigers last year after being called up from the Syracuse farm club. Roarke hit .318 in 23 games.

Craig, a bonus player signed off the University of Detroit campus last June, posted a 7-5 record at Duluth last season. Later he was 1-1 at Knoxville.

Fight Night Is Saturday

The cream of the crop of amateur boxers in the Upper Peninsula will invade Escanaba Saturday for the 22nd annual U. P. Golden Gloves championship tournament.

The annual athletic highlight for simon pure fighters will begin at the Holy Name gym at 8:15 p. m. Winners of first round battles will return to action the following Saturday night, Feb. 8, to bid for Upper Peninsula crowns.

Boxers and trainers will meet at the Holy Name gym Saturday afternoon at 3 for their final instructions. Boxers will receive a complete physical examination and will be weighed in by tournament officials under the direction of Robert Olsen, inspector for the Michigan Athletic Board of Control.

The tournament is staged by the Escanaba Lions Club in cooperation with the Daily Press and WLST radio. All profits are turned over to the Lions' sight and blind charity fund which has received over $25,000 since the tournament was inaugurated shortly before War II.

Tourney officials announced today that Miles Betts of Marquette and Jack Phillips have been assigned to referee the bouts. Judges will be Dewey Meunier of Escanaba, George Hurley and George Altman of Marquette. Other ringside officials will be Brother Felix, timer; Lee Nord, knockdown counter; Bud Shields, ring announcer. Drs. Raymond Hockstad and Donald Fitch will be examining and ringside physicians.

Fighters from Escanaba, Menominee, Manistique and Sawyer Air Force Base will be seeking handsome trophies and the right to represent the Upper Peninsula in Green Bay on Feb. 15, when they will meet champions from the Fond du Lac regional tournament.

Winners at Green Bay will advance this year to Kenosha, with the Wisconsin championship bouts slated for Feb 20. Kenosha winners will move on to the national finals at Louisville Feb. 25.

Menominee is defending team champion, having won the team trophy the last two years.

For the first time this year, tournament sponsors will award a two year tuition scholarship to Bay de Noc College to an outstanding boxer in the tournament. All fighters who enter the tourney are eligible for the award which will be made annually.

The field of fighters this year will include nine defending or former champions.

Latest team entries were received this week from Manistique where former boxer Leo Wood has taken over the coaching duties. Wood listed his team members to include Larry Bosanic, James Spaulding, Bill Roberts, Dick Benish, Dick Frey and John Schneider. Defending champion Dewaine Dixon also has been training in Manistique.

Watson Called By Red Wings

CINCINNATI (AP)—A second defenseman of the Cincinnati Wings Central Hockey League team has been called up by the parent Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League.

Jim Watson was ordered by Detroit general manager Sid Abel to be in Chicago for the Red Wings game Wednesday night against the Black Hawks.

Defenseman Wayne Muloin was called up by Detroit Tuesday. Muloin and Watson, however, are expected to play for Cincinnati in two weekend road games.

Detroit also Wednesday sent center Bryan Campbell to the Cincinnati club.

Perfect Record Down The Drain By Goal Tending

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

In one of college basketball's oddest incidents of the season the Davidson Wildcats saw their perfect 15-0 record go by the boards on a goal-tending call by the referee as the final buzzer sounded.

It gave the West Virginia Mountaineers, beaten eight times in 17 previous games, an upset 75-73 victory over the nation's third-ranked Wildcats and started a heated controversy.

The unusual finish highlighted a busy Wednesday night on college hardwoods marked also by St. John's of New York's upset 64-60 triumph over Creighton, the four overtime 97-95 victory of Holy Cross over Boston University and the 101-64 rout of Western Michigan by Chicago Loyola, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action.

Marty Lentz, Fred Hetzel and referee Otis Almond were the central figures in the closing seconds of the Davidson-West Virginia struggle at Charleston, W. Va.

This was the situation:

Charlie Marcon of Davidson had tied the score with only five seconds left. With two seconds to go Lentz got a pass at midcourt, whirled and let fly with a long heave. Big Fred Hetzel, Davidson's star, leaped into the air and grabbed the ball above the basket as it came down.

The final buzzer and Almond's whistle sounded at the same time. He ruled Hetzel with goal-tending and awarded West Virginia the winning basket.

Davidson's defeat in the Southern Conference battle left top-ranked UCLA, 15-0, and ninth-ranked DePaul, 13-0, as the only major unbeaten teams.

Georgia beat Virginia Tech 96-87, Penn surprised St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 66-51, New York University downed Santa Clara 79-64, Florida State whipped Alabama 95-77, Tulsa rallied to overcome Missouri 94-79 and Louisiana State defeated New Orleans Loyola 73-62 in other Wednesday games.

Randy Cross threw in 46 points for Boston U., but in a losing cause as Holy Cross won in the fourth overtime on a freeze with 84 seconds left. The regulation game ended 72-72. It was 80-80 after the first extra period, 86-86 after the second and 88-88 after the third.

Vic Rouse, who has been out with a bad shoulder, saw parttime action for Chicago Loyola and racked up 12 points and got nine rebounds against Western Michigan.

Warriors Take Advantage Of West's Injury

By The Associated Press

San Francisco's Warriors might lose basketball games, but they're not letting anyone beat them at opportunism.

The Warriors have played two games since Los Angeles' Jerry West broke a thumb and have won both while the Lakers have lost two.

That success at opportunism has pushed the Warriors to a point just 1½ games behind the first-place Lakers in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

San Francisco picked on Boston Wednesday night for a 100-92 decision. Philadelphia downed Los Angeles 102-97 in the first game of the Boston doubleheader.

The Warriors vaulted into second place in the west, one-half game ahead of St. Louis which wasn't so opportunistic, losing to New York 105-104 on Johnny Egan's last-minute basket.

As usual, Wilt Chamberlain provided the power for San Francisco. Chamberlain scored 28 points and snared 22 rebounds.

It was the first time San Francisco has beaten the Celtics in Boston since the Warriors moved to the West Coast. It also was only the second loss for Boston in 19 homes games this season.

San Francisco wasn't behind after the early minutes of play but had to hold off a late Boston rally sparked by Tom Heinsohn.

Los Angeles led Philadelphia at halftime 48-43, but Larry Costello's play-making led the 76ers to the triumph. When Costello left the game with a twisted left ankle early in the fourth quarter, Philadelphia led 81-77.

Hal Greer paced the 76ers' offensive attack, scoring 26 points. Elgin Baylor had 34 points, but the Lakers' again obviously missed the talented West.

St. Louis was headed for an apparent victory with a 10-point lead early in the fourth period But Egan, Bob Boozer and Art Heyman sparked the Knicks who allowed the Hawks only four points in the last six minutes.

Boozer's two free throws with one minute left cut St. Louis' lead to one point, and a stolen ball set up Egan's winning shot with 46 seconds left. Egan finished with 26 points.

ESCANABA BOXERS are poised for action in the 22nd annual Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves tournament which will begin Saturday night at 8:15 at the Holy Name High School gym. Teams from Escanaba, Menominee, Manistique and Sawyer Air Base will fight first round bouts Saturday with the championship card to be staged on Feb. 8. Winners of Upper Peninsula championships will earn the right to advance to Green Bay on Feb. 15 to face winners from the Fond du Lac tournament. The Escanaba boxers are trained and coached this year by LeRoy Sovey, former outstanding Golden Gloves scrapper. Members of the Escanaba team, left to right, front row: Wayne Nault, Fran Roberts, Wayne Juhl, Terry Sovey and Phil D'Ambrosia. Back row: Jim Johnson, Ron Lindstrom, David Wallin, Sovey, assistant Jim King, Bud Blowers and Roland Vanderlinden. (Daily Press Photo)

United States Olympic Skiers In Poor Showing

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Austria's dashing Egon Zimmerman flashed to a course record victory in the men's downhill ski race — glamor event of the Olympics — and America's high hopes crumbled on a sour note today in the ninth Winter Games.

Three more championships were in the ninth Winter Olympics Games. The United States is still without a medal.

The bitterest disappointment came in the downhill, where the two seeded U.S. aces, Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., and Bud Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo. — finished far out of the running. One of Uncle Sam's unheralded skiers, Annibale (Ni) Orsi, a 19-year-old student from Stockton, Calif., turned in the best clocking, 2 minutes, 21.59 seconds for 14th place.

The favored Zimmerman's winning time was 2:18.17, the fastest ever down the precipitous, 3,412-yard Mount Patscherkofel where a young Australian met his death in training last week.

Kidd, Werner and another U.S. veteran skier, Chuck Ferries of Houghton, Mich., barricaded themselves behind a police barrier immediately after the disappointing race and refused to talk to newsmen.

Reporters who sought interviews were roughed up by the guards. Kidd's time was 2:21.82 for 16th, Werner's 2:22.05 for 17th, and Ferries' 2:23.00 for 20th.

Prior to the race the American contingent had protested strongly against the omission of any of their skiers from the top seeded group. International ski officials finally gave in and put Kidd and Werner in the top 16.

A 26-year-old Finnish border customs employe, Eero Maentyaranta, won the 30-kilometer—18.6 miles—ski race in 1 hour, 30 minutes, 50.7 seconds and scored a record-smashing 1-2-3 sweep in the women's 500-meter speed skating event.

The United States made its best showing of the day in the women's 500-meter speed skating race, a European specialty, with Jeanne Ashworth of Lake Placid, N.Y., and Jan Smith of Rochester, N.Y., tying for fourth place.

The gold medal was won by the husky Lidia Skoblikova, a double winner in the 1960 games at Squaw Valley, Calif., in 45 seconds flat. She and two of her teammates — Irinia Yegorova, 45.4, and Tatyana Sidorova, 45.5, all beat the Olympic record of 45.9 set by Helga Haase of East Germany four years ago. The two American girls clocked 46.2.

The Yanks never were in contention in the 30-kilometer ski race, traditionally dominated by Scandinavians.

Mike Elliott, the 21-year-old Fort Lewis College student from Durango, Colo., finished 30th in 1 hour, 40 minutes, 11.7 seconds for the best U.S. showing.

Dick Taylor of Laconia, N.H., was 42nd in 1:42:39.5; Larry Damon of Burlington, Vt., 46th in 1:42:57.7, and Jim Shea of Lake Placid, N.Y., 48th in 1:43.18.4.

Marie Lawler, a 19-year-old high school girl from Minneapolis, showed a lot of spunk by competing in the women's speed skating race despite an overnight attack of shin splints, a form of muscle ailment. She clocked 46.6 for seventh place.

Maentyranta, who many observers said was washed up, was flushed and tired after completing the more than 18-mile ski course.

The wiry Finnish world champion crossed the line more than a full minute ahead of the runner-up, Harald Groenningen, a Norwegian farmer who was a doubtful starter until the last minute. Groenningen was clocked in 1:32.02.3.

In third place came Igor Voronchikhin of the Soviet Union, in 1:32.15.8, followed by Janne Stefansson of Sweden, in 1:32:34.8. Sweden's Sixten Jernberg, who won the title at the Squaw Valley, Calif., Olympics in 1960, finished fifth in 1:32.39.6.

The second day of the big ice and snow carnival started under ideal conditions, with the temperature at 5 degrees. The skies were clear.

A total of 69 skiers from 18 nations took off on the exhausting race, staged over two loops on the hard-packed track west of Seefeld.

As the men sped, one after another, over the 18.6 miles, women figure skaters were tracing their first compulsory designs at the Ice Stadium.

The Soviets took the first gold medal Wednesday night in a competition, figure skating, where just a few years ago they were among the also-rans.

The 500-meter speed skating was one of three events in which gold medals were at stake today. The other two were the men's 30-kilometer cross country Nordic ski race and the men's downhill Alpine ski race on the dangerous course of Mt. Patscherkofel.

For the fans, the downhill was the big event. More than 80 skiers were entered in the test, considered by many ski experts as the supreme trial of strength and endurance for skiers.

One skier was killed and several were injured during pre-Olympic training on the Patscherkofel course, packed by hand with snow carried to snowshort Innsbruck from other Alpine areas.

Wednesday's colorful opening ceremony and parade of competitors was followed by only limited competition.

But that competition—in ice hockey and figure skating—was enough to demonstrate the caliber of the Russian entries.

Ludmilla Belousova and Oleg Protopopov won the pairs gold medal in figure skating, upsetting the favored world champions from Germany, Marika Kilius and Hans Juergen Baemler. It was the first time the Russians had ever won a figure skating medal.

In hockey, the Russians established themselves as favorites as they swamped the United States, 5-1, in the first match of the round-robin championship tournament. The Americans are the defending Olympic champs, but they were completely outclassed.

A F L Will Stay; No Plans Yet For Title Game

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The American Football League is here to stay. That is the hard-to-swallow fact that owners of National Football League clubs had to admit today in the wake of the rival pro league's new $36 million television contract.

"The new television contract stabilizes the other league," said an NFL club official who wished to remain anonymous. "It gives them substance. Now they are big league."

The day when the two league champions may meet in a title playoff still may be far in the future. At least there was no inclination to hasten the day at the NFL meetings which end today.

"We have no such plans," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle just as he had been saying for weeks and months.

Asked to comment on the new AFL contract, Rozelle said only, "We are concerned only with our own National Football League. And we are very happy."

The NFL has reasons to be happy, too, with its two-year $28.2 million television deal with the Columbia Broadcasting System. Each of the 14 clubs will get about $1 million.

Pro football will cost the television networks about $25 million this year. In addition to the $14.1 million for the NFL and $7.2 million for the AFL, the two title games, still open for bids, probably will be worth about $2 million each. A head-on conflict every Sunday afternoon is in prospect with each network showing pro doubleheaders from coast to coast.

The television news shadowed the normal routine at the NFL meetings.

Ordell Braase of the Baltimore Colts, new president of the NFL Players Association, appeared before the owners Wednesday and asked that the players be paid $100 agame for pre-season exhibition instead of the present $50. He also asked for player representation on the pension committee.

Two suggestions to alter the playing rules were turned down by the owners. One would have assessed a 15-yard penalty for offside, instead of five yards, when a defensive play knocked down the offensive quarterback. Another would have created a position for a sixth official to synchronize the scoreboard clock with the official clock on the field.

Montreal Gets NHL Top Spot

By The Associated Press

For Montreal, the way to the top of the National Hockey League was Bobby Rousseau's stomach.

It was Rousseau's goal with less than four minutes remaining that boosted the Canadiens' to a 2-1 victory over Toronto Wednesday night and into sole possession of first place, one point ahead of Chicago which tied Detroit 2-2.

Rousseau, rookie of the year in the NHL two years ago, scored on a rebound of his own shot. The puck, however, rebounded off his stomach.

Toronto goalie John Bower didn't want to talk about it. "Ask Rousseau about it," he muttered.

Rousseau was more enlightening, explained:

"We both took a whack at it, and we both missed it."

The puck then bounced off Rousseau's stomach and zigzagged into the net off Bower's left pads about knee high.

Chicago led twice against Detroit, but both times the Red Wings struck back. Bobby Hull's 33rd goal for the Black Hawks in the first period was the only score until Eddie Joyal tied the game early in the third. Stan Mikita put the Hawks ahead for a second time, but again the Red Wings countered as rookie Paul Henderson scored his first NHL goal at the 13:54 mark.

Newsome Loses Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Howard (Butch) Komives of Bowling Green is once again college basketball's individual scoring leader thanks to an injured hand and semester examinations.

Scoring 43 points against Findlay last Saturday, Komives leap-frogged over injured Manny Newsome of Western Michigan and Princeton's Bill Bradley. Mid-year examinations have kept Bradley idle since Jan. 18.

Weekly statistics for major colleges, released today by the NCAA Service Bureau, show Komives on top with 370 points in 11 games for a 33.6 average. Newsome, last week's leader, is second with an average of 33.1 on 463 points in 14 games.

Bradds Sets Point Pace

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan's great combination of Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin holds its pace in Big Ten individual basketball scoring but Ohio State's Gary Bradds is still on top at a record pace.

Bradds leads with a 36.2 per game average while Russell and Buntin follow in fourth and fifth, respectively, with 25.2 and 24.0.

In Michigan's five games, Russell has scored 126 points and Buntin 120. Russell has 42 field goals and Buntin 43. Russell, however, has been masterful at the free throw line, sinking 42 of 46. Butin has 34 of 43.

Bradds has 181 points in five games. Tal Brody of Illinois has 28.5 in two games for runner-up and Northwestern's Rick Loposson Ave. is third with 27.0.

Michigan State is the top offensive team with a 90.0 point average.

Finley Spurns K. C. Offers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley and the city are farther apart then ever over a stadium lease for his Athletics and Finley has gained new confidence from a two-week extension of the American League's lease-or-ultimatum.

Finley rejected, at a 90-minute session Wednesday, two four-year city proposals he had taken under advisement Saturday. He insisted he would risk bankruptcy by signing for more than two years. The city wouldn't back down from its stand that at least four years is vital to recapture support of the fans, and to stabilize the troubled franchise.

Finley threatened to go to court after the American League turned down by a 9-1 vote his bid to move to Louisville Jan. 16 and by the same vote ordered him to sign a lease with Kansas City by Feb. 1 or face expulsion from the league.

Joe Cronin, league president, extended the deadline to Feb. 15 a short time before Wednesday's meeting, at the request of Finley's attorney, Louis Nizer. Finley went to Oakland after Saturday's session here and obtained a firm commitment to play there next season, should the league approve. But the league ignored Finley's request for a new meeting to consider a move to Oakland.

In Memoriam

Caron

In loving memory of our dear husband and father Arthur Caron who passed away 5 years ago today, January 30, 1959.

His helping hand was always first
To render any aid he could,
His voice was always raised in praise,
His words were wise and good.
Dear Father, since you've gone away,
The ones you loved so true,
Try hard to carry on the way
We know you want us to.

Lovingly Remembered By His Wife and Children

Profit Upswing Favorble Sign

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Business has caught its second breath in the current long upswing and this week is showing it where it counts: increased earnings. The reports are impressive and reassuring.

Profits are at record highs for a long list of companies, large and small. Most reflect increased sales and production. Cost cutting and automation play a big part.

Also reassuring for the immediate future is that for many corporations the big gain in profits over the previous year came in the final months of 1963. Executives say they expect the trend to continue for a while. The profit boosts came after a breather in the early months of 1963.

Some leading industries are almost unanimous in reporting record or at least greatly improved earnings: steel, oil, railroads, business machines and utilities. Giants in the motors, glass and chemical industries report good gains in 1963. Some of these climbed to record heights.

The flood of annual statements is just starting. But early reports of some companies and those of many with fiscal years ending before the calendar one give a preview. The final tally seems sure to show that 1963 was the best year yet for business profits in aggregate.

Among the biggest saying 1963 easily topped 1962 are General Motors, AT&T, Jersey Standard Oil, U.S. Steel, IBM, Du Pont, Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, and Consolidated Edison and Public Service E&G utilities.

Other giants among the steels so far to report better earnings than in 1962 are Republic, National, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Inland, Armco.

Big oil companies enjoying a more profitable year include Texaco, Socony Mobil, Shell, Gulf, Cities Service, Sinclair, Sun, Marathon, Phillips.

International Harvester, Caterpillar Tractor, Massey-Ferguson, Johns Manville, Carrier, Monsanto Chemical, Koppers, Firestone all report increased earnings. So do Douglas Aircraft and Continental Airlines.

The wide lead of increases over declines for business as a whole affirms the health of the economy at the moment. It also shows that many companies have learned to translate increased production and sales into higher profits — something a lot of them didn't do a year earlier. And it also bolsters the confidence with which many face 1964 and plan for future growth.

Mental Health Planning Group Will Organize

An Upper Peninsula Mental Health Planning Committee will be formed at an organization meeting Saturday in Marquette.

Approximately 30 persons are expected to attend the meeting in the Vista Room at Northern Michigan University Student Center at 10 a.m.

The meeting was called by Richard F. O'Dell, Marquette, president of the Upper Peninsula Child Guidance Clinic, and W. A. Berg, Marquette, president of the Upper Peninsula Adult Mental Health Clinic.

"This will be a working committee — to discover the needs of both the emotionally disturbed and the mentally retarded of the Upper Peninsula and to develop a comprehensive program to meet these needs," O'Dell said. "Most of the work will be done on the local level, but the entire committee will meet occasionally. It is our hope that, by the end of 1964, the committee can submit detailed plans and requests for funds to the appropriate governmental and other agencies in a position to furnish them."

O'Dell and Berg said they "earnestly solicit the participation of all persons desiring to help" in the committee's work.

Ohio Housewife Plans To Solo Around Globe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 38-year-old Columbus housewife is brushing up on her instrument flying before trying what no woman ever has accomplished — flying an airplane alone around the world.

Mrs. Jerrie Mock, an active pilot for eight years, says she plans to circle the globe in a single - engine Cessna airplane within the next few weeks.

She estimates the trip will take approximately three weeks.

It was 27 years ago that Amelia Earhart attempted the trip on what proved to be an ill-fated flight for her and her navigator, Capt. Fred Noonan.

Mrs. Mock's proposed route is similar to Miss Earhart's, but with slight variations to accommodate present air regulations over various countries, and to take advantage of newly established electronic navigation facilities.

"The trip should be routine," Mrs. Mock says.

Now that everybody's standing, let's all go to the Buick Sports Car Rally.

Really.

It would be a shame to waste this chance to drive one of Buick's lively sport models, wouldn't it? Especially considering your Buick dealer's so close, and the price is so nice. That's what the Sports Car Rally is all about. And they're all luxurious enough to make you wonder why anybody'd settle for a two-seater. A finely tuned production 340 hp Wildcat with a skilled driver scored the highest miles per gallon in the economy test of Class I—high performance V-8's—at the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona Beach, Florida. (So who's surprised? Not Wildcat owners.)
